5 Approval Process for Using a Supplementary Logo – University Schools, Offices, Centres, Institutes or Campuses

- 5.1 University Institutes, the Academic Enabling Support Centre and the Broome Campus: Existing and approved supplementary logos may be used to represent these areas of the University, alongside the University logo. Any requests to change the name and/or logo is subject to approval by the Vice Chancellor. Approval will be subject to an acceptable Business Case that has been endorsed by the relevant Director or Executive Director, the Head of Campus and the CMCO.
- 5.2 Campus-based conferences or seminars: Use of a supplementary logo for a Campus-based conference or seminar that is hosted or organised by the University is subject to approval by the relevant Head of Campus. Approval will be subject to an acceptable Business Case that has been endorsed by the business owner (typically a Dean or Executive Director). The relevant Head of Campus will consult with the CMCO when considering the Business Case.
- 5.3 National or International Conferences or Seminars: Use of a supplementary logo for a national or international conference or seminar that is hosted or organised by the University is subject to approval by the Vice Chancellor. Approval will be subject to an acceptable Business Case that has been endorsed by the business owner (typically a Dean, Director or Executive Director) and the relevant Head of Campus, following consultation with the CMCO.
- 5.4 Other purposes If a Dean, Director, or Executive Director considers that a supplementary logo would be beneficial, its use is subject to approval by the Vice Chancellor and will normally only be granted in exceptional circumstances. A business case should be presented to the Head of Campus and to the CMCO for endorsement in the first instance, and then to the Vice Chancellor.

6 Approval Process for Using a Supplementary Logo –Student bodies, clubs, committees, societies and associations

- 6.1 Campus-based use: Use of a supplementary logo on a single campus is subject to approval by the relevant Head of Campus. Approval will be subject to an acceptable Business Case that has been endorsed by the PVC SES (Sydney Campus) or Executive Director Admissions and Student Services (Fremantle and Broome Campuses), following advice from the CMCO.
- 6.2 School-based use: Use of a supplementary logo at a School level is subject to approval by the relevant Head of Campus. Approval will be subject to an acceptable Business Case that has been endorsed by the relevant Dean, following advice from the CMCO.
- 6.3 National use: Use of a supplementary logo on a national scale is subject to approval by the Vice Chancellor. Approval will be subject to an acceptable Business Case that has been endorsed by the PVC SES (Sydney Campus) and the Executive Director Admissions and Student Services (Fremantle and Broome Campuses) following advice from the CMCO.

7 Business Case for use of a Supplementary Logo

- 7.1 A Business Case for use of a supplementary logo should include, but not be limited to, commentary on the following:
- Current situation;
 - Case for change, including any risks;
 - Proposed use of the supplementary logo;
 - Research and consultation undertaken;
 - Cost implications of any change;
 - The creative brief/vision for the proposed supplementary logo;
 - Any legal issues (such as in relation to Copyright);
 - Time lines and schedule;
 - Name and position of person submitting the request.

8 Roles and Responsibilities

- 8.1 The Office of Marketing and Communications (OMC) will assist with the creation of artwork for any supplementary logo that has been approved, which will then be available for use in accordance with the approved Business Case.
- 8.2 The University will retain copyright over any approved supplementary logo and reserves the right to change it or withdraw permission for its use at any time.
- 8.3 The relevant Dean, Executive Director or Director, or the relevant Student Executive or elected representative will be responsible for using the supplementary logo in accordance with the approved Business Case.
